HISTORY OF THE
MGH INSTITUTE OF HEALTH PROFESSIONS

In 1873, MGH established one of the first schools of nursing based on the principles of Florence Nightingale—the Boston Training School for Nurses—which became the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses in 1896 and the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing in 1940. When this diploma school closed in 1981, it was the oldest continuously operating school of nursing in the United States and was the predecessor to the Institute’s Graduate Program in Nursing.

Since many health care professions evolved from hospital-based needs, educational programs initially developed through onsite clinical training activities. Departures from this pattern came during the 1940s and 1950s as colleges and universities assumed responsibility for health professions education. However, the shift from hospital-based to academy-based education raised several issues. The most critical were the divisions between educators and practitioners and between professionals of different disciplines. The separation of the place of practice from the place of education lessened coordination between the two and often caused a lack of integration between clinical and didactic aspects of the curriculum.

Ruth Sleeper, Director of the MGH School of Nursing from 1946 to 1966, recognized the implications of these changes in nursing education and in 1964 promoted the idea of a freestanding degree-granting institution at MGH. In the late 1960s, Dr. John Hilton Knowles, MGH General Director, expanded the idea to include all MGH educational programs for health care professionals other than physicians and proposed a hospital-based program at an advanced level—“MGH University.” The MGH Board of Trustees reaffirmed the integral role of education in the mission of the Massachusetts General Hospital. At the same time, the Trustees acknowledged that the most appropriate location for an education unit was not within the hospital, where the primary objective is the delivery of health care.

Dr. Charles Sanders, Knowles’ successor, pursued the idea of a degree program along with Dr. Henry Mankin, Chair of the MGH Committee on Teaching and Education, John E. Lawrence, Chair of the MGH Board of Trustees, and Dr. Robert Ebert, Dean of the Harvard Medical School, who endorsed the idea. In the early 1970s, MGH formed an Office of Educational Planning to develop a process for establishing a degree-granting institution. Acting faculty composed of MGH department heads planned academic programs in nursing, speech, physical therapy, dietetics, social work, respiratory therapy, and radiologic technology.

In 1975, the petition to grant degrees was submitted to the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education. A visiting committee conducted a site visit and a public hearing was held, at which local colleges and universities voiced their opposition to establishing a freestanding school governed by MGH.
In 1977, the founding date for the Institute, MGH was awarded degree-granting authority by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The first Provost and Program Directors in Dietetics, Nursing, Physical Therapy and Social Work were hired. The name was changed from the Educational Division to the MGH Institute of Health Professions in 1980, and the Institute officially opened, admitting the first students in Post-Professional Physical Therapy and Social Work. The following year the first students enrolled in the Dietetics Program and the Institute held its first graduation, awarding four certificates in social work. In 1982, the first nursing students were admitted, and in 1983 the first degree, a Master of Science, was awarded in Physical Therapy. That year the Institute also hired the first Program Director for the Speech-Language Pathology Program.

In 1985, the Institute was incorporated with its own Board of Trustees, hired its first President, received initial accreditation from the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC), the regional higher education accrediting body, and granted the first Master of Science in Nursing degrees. Throughout the 1980s and early 1990s, the Institute continued to change and grow. The faculty award for excellence in teaching, which is given annually at Commencement, was established and later named in honor of Nancy T. Watts, Professor Emerita, physical therapist, and educator who was instrumental in the founding of the Institute. The Nursing Program was accredited by the National League for Nursing, the Social Work program closed, students enrolled in the speech program that had been renamed the Communication Sciences and Disorders Program (CSD), and the Institute moved to 101 Merrimac Street – the first time faculty, staff and students were all together under one roof.

By 1994, when the Partners HealthCare System was formed by the Massachusetts General Hospital and Brigham and Women’s Hospital, the Institute’s enrollment had reached 500. The following year, the entry-level Professional Program in Physical Therapy opened, the Dietetics Program closed, and the Graduate Program in Nursing revised its curriculum to prepare nurse practitioners. In 1996, the Institute received degree-granting authority in Clinical Investigation, and the CSD Program was awarded teacher certification by the Massachusetts Department of Education.

1997 saw the Institute’s endowment reach $15 million. The Alumni Association was established, the first students were admitted to the Clinical Investigation Program, the CSD Program received accreditation from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, and the Professional Program in Physical Therapy was accredited by the Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education. In 1998, the Institute celebrated its 20th anniversary and graduated its 1,000th alumnus. In 1999 the first Clinical Investigation student graduated, and the Institute began offering courses online.
The new century brought many changes. The Institute received authority from the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education to convert the Master of Science to the Doctor of Physical Therapy as the entry-level degree. The Hanson Initiative for Language and Literacy (HILL) was established.

The Institute purchased Building 36 in the Charlestown Navy Yard and received a $2 million gift from the Catherine Filene Shouse Foundation for the new building. Renovations turned Building 36 into a state-of-the-art health care educational facility, and it was renamed the Catherine Filene Shouse Building. The Institute moved in its entirety to the Shouse Building in December 2001, and classes for the spring term began in the new building in January 2002.

By 2002, the Institute’s endowment exceeded $20 million. In June the Institute celebrated its 25th anniversary and dedicated the Catherine Filene Shouse Building, and in 2003 the Fundraising campaign for the Shouse Building ended, having raised $4.4 million. In December 2003 the Institute received degree-granting authority for the Post-Baccalaureate Certificate in Medical Imaging and the first students enrolled in the program in the fall of 2004.

As enrollments continued to grow, the Institute was also maturing as an institution, creating new traditions and honoring its historical roots. The 2004 Commencement activities were expanded to include an Honors Convocation, now an annual event. The nursing faculty created an Institute chapter of Sigma Theta Tau, the nursing honor society, and inducted the first honorees. In the fall, the MGH School of Nursing archives were permanently relocated to the Institute and the archives were formally dedicated.

In 2005, the Distinguished Alumni Award was established, and the first recipient was honored at the Institute’s 25th Commencement in May. A highlight of the Commencement that year was the academic procession that included alumni from each of the preceding twenty-four years carrying their class flags, which were placed along the back of stage. The alumni were led by a representative from the MGH Nurses’ Alumnae Association, carrying the flag of the MGH School of Nursing symbolizing the historical link between the School of Nursing and the Institute’s Graduate Program in Nursing. Each year representatives from the graduating class and from the MGH Nurses’ Alumnae Association lead the academic procession and their flags join those from the previous classes on the stage.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

PAUL FARMER, MD, PHD
Medical anthropologist and physician Paul Farmer is a founding director of Partners In Health, an international charity organization that provides direct health care services and undertakes research and advocacy activities on behalf of those who are sick and living in poverty. Dr. Farmer is the Maude and Lillian Presley Professor of Medical Anthropology in the Department of Social Medicine at Harvard Medical School. His work draws primarily on active clinical practice (he is an attending physician in infectious diseases and Associate Chief of the Division of Social Medicine and Health Inequalities at Brigham and Women’s Hospital (BWH) in Boston, and medical director of a charity hospital, the Clinique Bon Sauveur, in rural Haiti) and focuses on diseases that disproportionately afflict the poor. Along with his colleagues at BWH, in the Program in Infectious Disease and Social Change at Harvard Medical School, and in Haiti, Peru, Russia, and Rwanda, Dr. Farmer has pioneered novel, community-based treatment strategies for AIDS and tuberculosis (including multidrug-resistant tuberculosis). Dr. Farmer and his colleagues have successfully challenged the policymakers and critics who claim that quality health care is impossible to deliver in resource-poor settings.

Dr. Farmer is the recipient of The Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter Award for Humanitarian Contributions to the Health of Humankind from the National Foundation for Infectious Diseases, the Salk Institute Medal for Health and Humanity, the Duke University Humanitarian Award, the Margaret Mead Award from the American Anthropological Association, the American Medical Association’s Outstanding International Physician (Nathan Davis) Award, and the Heinz Humanitarian Award. In 1993, he was awarded a John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation “genius award” in recognition of his work.

Dr. Farmer received his Bachelor’s degree from Duke University and his M.D. and Ph.D. from Harvard University. He is the subject of Pulitzer Prizewinner Tracy Kidder’s Mountains Beyond Mountains: The Quest of Dr. Paul Farmer, a Man Who Would Cure the World (Random House, 2003).

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia is a unique academic custom that began in the Middle Ages when scholars at European universities wore hoods and gowns as their customary daily attire. The distinctive gowns, caps and hoods were designed to represent various trades and professions and to reflect the different levels of education. Bachelors of Arts were apprentices; Masters of Arts were teachers; and Doctors were teachers who had completed post-graduate studies. The regalia worn in academic ceremonies in modern day America is derived primarily from the gowns worn at Oxford University.

The Master's gowns are set apart by pleated front panels and an oblong sleeve that falls below the knee. The sleeve is squared at the end into which a semi-circle is cut. The Doctor's gowns are more elaborate with velvet panels down the front and around the neck with three velvet stripes running across the bell-shaped sleeves. The variety of styles and colors seen in the procession reflects a university's own distinguishing custom for its doctoral robes. Other symbolic characteristics are sometimes worn on the gown, such as ribbons or cords, to symbolize honors such as Phi Beta Kappa.

All levels of degree candidates and recipients wear the square mortarboard caps. Doctors sometimes wear the soft, beret-style cap. The tassels worn on both mortarboards and berets are sometimes color-coded by the major field of learning but may be black for any degree. The gold metallic thread tassel is reserved for doctors and/or the governing officials of institutions. Candidates for graduation wear the tassel on the right side, changing it to the left side after the degree is conferred.

The most distinctive characteristics in academic regalia are found on the hood, an ornamental and symbolic article draped over the shoulders and back which connotes the level of degree, the field of study, and the degree-granting institution. The size of the hood and width of velvet trimming conveys level of degree. The color of the velvet border identifies the field of study. Listed below are some of the colors represented in the academic procession today:

The silk lining of the hood denotes the colors of the institution granting the highest degree earned by that individual. Hoods for the MGH Institute of Health Professions are lined in teal and white.

The US flag on the platform was flown over the US Capitol on August 27, 2001, at the request of The Honorable Senator Mitch McConnell. The flag was presented to Dr. Sandra Jones, program coordinator for the Hanson Initiative for Language and Literacy (HILL), by the Paducah, Kentucky Rotary at the request of Dale Hanson, co-founding donor of the HILL. Dr. Jones accepted the flag on behalf of the HILL, the Graduate Program in Communication Sciences and Disorders, and the MGH Institute of Health Professions.

The MGH Institute of Health Professions gratefully acknowledges the use of the Harvard Medical School campus and facilities and the assistance of its staff with the arrangements for the Commencement festivities.

The Institute also acknowledges with thanks the participation of the administration, staff, and students who contributed their ideas, time, and energy to ensure the success of the Commencement events.
