TWENTY-SEVENTH
COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY
MAY 5, 2007
The MGH Institute of Health Professions gratefully acknowledges the use of the Boston Park Plaza Hotel & Towers and the assistance of its staff with the arrangements for the Commencement festivities.

The US flag on the platform was flown over the US Capitol on August 27, 2001, at the request of The Honorable Senator Mitch McConnell. The flag was presented to Dr. Sandra Jones, program coordinator for the Hanson Initiative for Language and Literacy (HILL), by the Paducah, Kentucky Rotary at the request of Dale Hanson, co-founding donor of the HILL. Dr. Jones accepted the flag on behalf of the HILL, the Graduate Program in Communication Sciences and Disorders, and the MGH Institute of Health Professions.

The Institute also acknowledges with thanks the participation of the administration, staff, and students who contributed their ideas, time, and energy to ensure the success of the Commencement events.

HISTORY OF THE MGH INSTITUTE OF HEALTH PROFESSIONS

In 1873, MGH established one of the first schools of nursing based on the principles of Florence Nightingale—the Boston Training School for Nurses—which became the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses in 1896 and the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing in 1940. When this diploma school closed in 1981, it was the oldest continuously operating school of nursing in the United States and was the predecessor to the Institute's Graduate Program in Nursing.

Since many health care professions evolved from hospital-based needs, educational programs initially developed through onsite clinical training activities. Departures from this pattern came during the 1940s and 1950s as colleges and universities assumed responsibility for health professions education. However, the shift from hospital-based to academy-based education raised several issues. The most critical were the divisions between educators and practitioners and between professionals of different disciplines. The separation of the place of practice from the place of education lessened coordination between the two and often caused a lack of integration between clinical and didactic aspects of the curriculum.

Ruth Sleeper, Director of the MGH School of Nursing from 1946 to 1966, recognized the implications of these changes in nursing education and in 1964 promoted the idea of a freestanding degree-granting institution at MGH. In the late 1960s, Dr. John Hilton Knowles, MGH General Director, expanded the idea to include all MGH educational programs for health care professionals other than physicians and proposed a hospital-based program at an advanced level—“MGH University.” The MGH Board of Trustees reaffirmed the integral role of education in the mission of the Massachusetts General Hospital. At the same time, the Trustees acknowledged that the most appropriate location for an education unit was not within the hospital, where the primary objective is the delivery of health care.

Dr. Charles Sanders, Knowles’ successor, pursued the idea of a degree program along with Dr. Henry Mankin, Chair of the MGH Committee on Teaching and Education, John E. Lawrence, Chair of the MGH Board of Trustees, and Dr. Robert Ebert, Dean of the Harvard Medical School, who endorsed the idea. In the early 1970s, MGH formed an Office of Educational Planning to develop a process for establishing a degree-granting institution. Acting faculty composed of MGH department heads planned academic programs in nursing, speech, physical therapy, dietetics, social work, respiratory therapy and radiologic technology.

In 1975, the petition to grant degrees was submitted to the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education. A visiting committee conducted a site visit and a public hearing was held, at which local colleges and universities voiced their opposition to establishing a freestanding school governed by MGH.
In 1977, the founding date for the Institute, MGH was awarded degree-granting authority by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The first Provost and Program Directors in Dietetics, Nursing, Physical Therapy and Social Work were hired. The name was changed from the Educational Division to the MGH Institute of Health Professions in 1980, and the Institute officially opened, admitting the first students in Post-Professional Physical Therapy and Social Work. The following year the first students enrolled in the Dietetics Program and the Institute held its first graduation, awarding four certificates in social work. In 1982, the first nursing students were admitted, and in 1983 the first degree, a Master of Science, was awarded in Physical Therapy. That year the Institute also hired the first Program Director for the Speech-Language Pathology Program.

In 1985, the Institute was incorporated with its own Board of Trustees, hired its first President, received initial accreditation from the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC), the regional higher education accrediting body, and granted the first Master of Science in Nursing degrees. Throughout the 1980s and early 1990s, the Institute continued to change and grow. The faculty award for excellence in teaching, which is given annually at Commencement, was established and later named in honor of Nancy T. Watts, Professor Emerita, physical therapist, and educator who was instrumental in the founding of the Institute. The Nursing Program was accredited by the National League for Nursing, the Social Work program closed, students enrolled in the speech program that had been renamed the Communication Sciences and Disorders Program (CSD), and the Institute moved to 101 Merrimac Street – the first time faculty, staff and students were all together under one roof.

By 1994, when the Partners HealthCare System was formed by the Massachusetts General Hospital and Brigham and Women's Hospital, the Institute's enrollment had reached 500. The following year, the entry-level Professional Program in Physical Therapy opened, the Dietetics Program closed, and the Graduate Program in Nursing revised its curriculum to prepare nurse practitioners. In 1996, the Institute received degree-granting authority in Clinical Investigation, and the CSD Program was awarded teacher certification by the Massachusetts Department of Education.

1997 saw the Institute's endowment reach $15 million. The Alumni Association was established, the first students were admitted to the Clinical Investigation Program, the CSD Program received accreditation from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, and the Professional Program in Physical Therapy was accredited by the Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education. In 1998, the Institute celebrated its 20th anniversary and graduated its 1,000th alumnus. In 1999 the first Clinical Investigation student graduated, and the Institute began offering courses online.
The new century brought many changes. The Institute received authority from the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education to convert the Master of Science to the Doctor of Physical Therapy as the entry-level degree. The Hanson Initiative for Language and Literacy (HILL) was established.

The Institute purchased Building 36 in the Charlestown Navy Yard and received a $2 million gift from the Catherine Filene Shouse Foundation for the new building. Renovations turned Building 36 into a state-of-the-art health care educational facility, and it was renamed the Catherine Filene Shouse Building. The Institute moved in its entirety to the Shouse Building in December 2001, and classes for the spring term began in the new building in January 2002.

By 2002, the Institute’s endowment exceeded $20 million. In June the Institute celebrated its 25th anniversary and dedicated the Catherine Filene Shouse Building, and in 2003 the fundraising campaign for the Shouse Building ended, having raised $4.4 million. In December 2003 the Institute received degree-granting authority for the Post-Baccalaureate Certificate in Medical Imaging and the first students enrolled in the program in the fall of 2004.

As enrollments continued to grow, the Institute was also maturing as an institution, creating new traditions and honoring its historical roots. The 2004 Commencement activities were expanded to include an Honors Convocation, now an annual event. The nursing faculty created an Institute chapter of Sigma Theta Tau, the nursing honor society, and inducted the first honorees. In the fall, the MGH School of Nursing archives were permanently relocated to the Institute and the archives were formally dedicated.

In 2005, the Distinguished Alumni Award was established, and the first recipient was honored at the Institute’s 25th Commencement in May. A highlight of the Commencement that year was the academic procession that included alumni from each of the preceding twenty-four years carrying their class flags, which were placed along the back of stage. The alumni were led by a representative from the MGH Nurses’ Alumnae Association, carrying the flag of the MGH School of Nursing symbolizing the historical link between the School of Nursing and the Institute’s Graduate Program in Nursing. Each year representatives from the graduating class and from the MGH Nurses’ Alumnae Association lead the academic procession and their flags join those from the previous classes on the stage. In 2007, the Distinguished Alumni Award was named in honor of Bette Ann Harris, the first graduate of the Institute.

In 2007, Commencement celebrations expanded from two days to an official Commencement Week of activities. A Commencement steering committee oversaw the planning of all the events and functions incorporated as Nursing Day, Research Day, Honors Convocation and Open House, as well as the official Commencement ceremony. Summer 2007 also marks the first official alumni reunion weekend, slated to become an annual event for the five, ten, fifteen and twenty year classes.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

JEFFREY D. SACHS, Ph.D.

Jeffrey D. Sachs is a leading international economic advisor, and the Director of The Earth Institute, Quetelet Professor of Sustainable Development, and Professor of Health Policy and Management at Columbia University. He is one of the foremost voices for combining economic development with environmental sustainability. As Director of The Earth Institute, Dr. Sachs leads large-scale efforts to promote the mitigation of human-induced climate change. He is also President and Co-Founder of Millenium Promise Alliance, a non-profit organization aimed at ending extreme global poverty.

From 2002 to 2006, Dr. Sachs was Director of the UN Millenium Project and Special advisor to United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan on the Millenium Development Goals, the internationally agreed goals to reduce extreme poverty, disease, and hunger by the year 2015.

Dr. Sachs's research interests include the links of health and development, economic geography, globalization, transition to market economies in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union, international financial markets, international macroeconomic policy coordination, emerging markets, economic development and growth, global competitiveness, and macroeconomic policies in developing and developed countries. He is author or co-author of more than two hundred scholarly articles, and has written or edited many books including the New York Times bestseller, The End of Poverty: Economic Possibilities of Our Time (Penguin, 2005).

Dr. Sachs is the recipient of many awards and honors. In 2004 and in 2005, he was named among the 100 most influential leaders in the world by Time Magazine, and is the 2005 recipient of the Sargent Shriver Award for Equal Justice. The World Affairs Council of America identified him as one of the most influential people in the United States in the field of foreign policy. He is a member of the Institute of Medicine, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Harvard Society of Fellows, and the Fellows of the World Econometric Society.

Prior to his arrival at Columbia University in 2002, Dr. Sachs spent over twenty years at Harvard University, most recently as Director for the Center of International Development and Galen L. Stone Professor of International Trade.

Dr. Sachs received his B.A, summa cum laude from Harvard College in 1976, and his M.A. and Ph.D. from Harvard University in 1978 and 1980 respectively.

AWARDS AND HONORS

BETTE ANN HARRIS DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD
In 2005 and in recognition of the Twenty-fifth Commencement Ceremony, the Institute established the Distinguished Alumni Award to be conferred annually at Commencement. It is the highest form of recognition bestowed upon an alumna or alumnus of the MGH Institute of Health Professions. It is given to a graduate who has demonstrated outstanding leadership, achievement and service in advancing health care through the professions and in support of the mission of the MGH Institute in one or more of the following ways:

- Expanding and refining the scientific basis for clinical practice through research and scholarship
- Contributing to new models of practice to foster provision of effective, affordable and ethical health care
- Contributing significantly to advancing the mission, reputation and standards of the MGH Institute

The Distinguished Alumni Award is named in honor of Bette Ann Harris, the first graduate of the Institute. A distinguished alumna herself, she exemplifies all the award criteria through her contributions as a physical therapist, Institute faculty member and, for ten years, Director of the Institute's Graduate Program in Physical Therapy.

Past Recipients of the Bette Ann Harris Distinguished Alumni Award

2005  Annabel Edwards  ’87, ’91
2006  Jennifer Bottomley ’86

NANCY T. WATTS AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING
In 1989, the Institute established an Award for Excellence in Teaching to recognize individual faculty members for outstanding achievement in teaching. Professor Emerita Nancy T. Watts was the first recipient of the award, and in 1996 the award was renamed in her honor. The award, given annually at Commencement, honors a distinguished Institute faculty member who exhibits creativity in teaching methods, has demonstrated ability to mentor faculty and students, and is recognized by faculty colleagues as outstanding in the field of teaching.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia is a unique academic custom that began in the Middle Ages when scholars at European universities wore hoods and gowns as their customary daily attire. The distinctive gowns, caps and hoods were designed to represent various trades and professions and to reflect the different levels of education. Bachelors of Arts were apprentices; Masters of Arts were teachers; and Doctors were teachers who had completed post-graduate studies. The regalia worn in academic ceremonies in modern day America is derived primarily from the gowns worn at Oxford University.

The Master’s gowns are set apart by pleated front panels and an oblong sleeve that falls below the knee. The sleeve is squared at the end into which a semi-circle is cut. The Doctor’s gowns are more elaborate with velvet panels down the front and around the neck with three velvet stripes running across the bell-shaped sleeves. The variety of styles and colors seen in the procession reflects a university’s own distinguishing custom for its doctoral robes. Other symbolic characteristics are sometimes worn on the gown, such as ribbons or cords, to symbolize honors such as Phi Beta Kappa.

All levels of degree candidates and recipients wear the square mortarboard caps. Doctors sometimes wear the soft, beret-style cap. The tassels worn on both mortarboards and berets are sometimes color-coded by the major field of learning but may be black for any degree. The gold metallic thread tassel is reserved for doctors and/or the governing officials of institutions. Candidates for graduation wear the tassel on the right side, changing it to the left side after the degree is conferred.

The most distinctive characteristics in academic regalia are found on the hood, an ornamental and symbolic article draped over the shoulders and back which connotes the level of degree, the field of study, and the degree-granting institution. The size of the hood and width of velvet trimming conveys level of degree. The color of the velvet border identifies the field of study. Listed below are some of the colors represented in the academic procession today:

The silk lining of the hood denotes the colors of the institution granting the highest degree earned by that individual. Hoods for the MGH Institute of Health Professions are lined in teal and white.
