History of the MGH Institute of Health Professions

MGH Institute of Health Professions was founded to address the need for master clinicians, leaders in the health care professions molded by the integration of theory and clinical practice in an interprofessional environment.

In 1873, Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) established one of the first schools of nursing—the Boston Training School for Nurses—based on the principles of Florence Nightingale, which became the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses in 1896, and later the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing. By the time this diploma school closed in 1981, it was the oldest continuously operating school of nursing in the United States and was the predecessor to the MGH Institute’s School of Nursing.

Since many health care professions evolved from hospital-based needs, the MGH Institute’s educational programs initially developed through on-site clinical training activities. The shift from hospital-based to college and university-based education for health sciences raised several issues, including lack of integration between clinical and didactic aspects of health care curriculum.

Ruth Sleeper, Director of the MGH School of Nursing from 1946 to 1966, recognized the implications of these changes in nursing education and in 1964 promoted the idea of a free-standing, degree-granting institution affiliated with MGH. In the late 1960s, Dr. John Hilton Knowles, then MGH General Director, expanded the idea to include all non-physician education programs for health care professionals and proposed establishing an “MGH University,” which would offer hospital-based, advanced-level training programs.

Creating a New School

In the early 1970s, Dr. Charles A. Sanders, Dr. Knowles’ successor, along with Dr. Henry Mankin, Chair of the MGH Committee on Teaching and Education, and John E. Lawrence, then Chair of the MGH Board of Trustees, pursued the idea of creating an affiliated graduate degree school.

In 1975, a petition to grant degrees was submitted to the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education. A public hearing was held, at which local colleges and universities voiced opposition to the establishment of a free-standing school governed by the hospital.

In 1977, Massachusetts General Hospital was awarded degree-granting authority by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The first Provost as well as program directors in dietetics, nursing, physical therapy, and social work were hired. MGH Institute of Health Professions officially opened in 1980, admitting its first students in physical therapy and social work.

The Early Years

In 1980, the first students enrolled in the dietetics program, and the Institute held its first graduation, awarding four certificates in social work. In 1982, the first nursing students were admitted, and in 1983 the first degree, a Master of Science, was awarded in physical therapy. That year the Institute also began a new speech-language pathology graduate program.

In 1985, the MGH Institute was incorporated with an independent Board of Trustees, hired its first President, and received initial accreditation from the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC).

Change through the 1990s

Throughout the 1980s and early 1990s, the MGH Institute continued to grow and change. A faculty award for excellence in teaching was established and later named in honor of Nancy T. Watts, Professor Emerita, a nationally prominent physical therapist and educator who was instrumental in the Institute’s founding. The nursing program achieved specialized accreditation, the social work program closed, students enrolled in the speech-language pathology program, and the speech-language pathology program’s academic department was renamed Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSD). The Institute also moved to 101 Merrimac Street—the first time faculty, staff and students were all together under one roof.

By 1994, when Partners HealthCare was formed by Massachusetts General Hospital and Brigham and Women’s Hospital, the MGH Institute’s enrollment had reached 500 students. The following year, the entry-level physical therapy program began, the dietetics program closed, and the nursing program revised its curriculum to prepare nurse practitioners. In 1996, the Institute added a program in clinical investigation, and the speech-language pathology program was awarded teacher certification by the Massachusetts Department of Education.

In 1997, an Alumni Association was established, the first students were admitted to the clinical investigation program, and the speech-language pathology program and the physical therapy programs gained accreditation by their respective specialized accrediting agencies. In 1998, the Institute graduated its 1,000th alumnus, and in 1999, the Institute began offering courses online.
A New Campus at Dawn of 21st Century

In 2000, the Institute purchased a former joiners building in the Charlestown Navy Yard, giving the school a permanent home for the first time. A $2 million gift from the Catherine Filene Shouse Foundation renovated Building 36 into a state-of-the-art educational facility.

In December 2001, the Institute moved into the newly renamed Catherine Filene Shouse Building. The school also converted its entry-level Master of Science in Physical Therapy degree to a Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT).

In June of 2002, the Institute celebrated its 25th anniversary and formally dedicated the Shouse Building. Authority to grant a Post-Baccalaureate Certificate in Medical Imaging was achieved in 2003, with the first students enrolling in the program in the fall of 2004.

The 2004 Commencement activities were expanded to include an Honors Convocation. A nursing honor society was founded, and four years later was inducted as Upsilon Lambda chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International. With a grant from the MGH Nurses’ Alumnae Association, the former MGH School of Nursing’s archives were permanently relocated to a new, climate-controlled space on campus.

In 2005, a Distinguished Alumni Award was established. The first recipient was honored at the 25th Commencement, which featured an academic procession with alumni from each of the preceding 24 years carrying their respective class flag. Alumni were led by a representative from the MGH Nurses’ Alumnae Association, carrying the flag of the MGH School of Nursing which symbolized the historical link between the School of Nursing and the Institute’s nursing program.

In 2006, the Distinguished Alumni Award was renamed in honor of Bette Ann Harris ‘83, the Institute’s first degree recipient.

Academic and Campus Expansion Begins

In 2007, Janis P. Bellack, PhD, RN, FAAN, became the Institute’s fifth President, and the first annual Gala was held to generate additional scholarship funds to support students. The nursing program accepted its first students into a new Accelerated Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree program, and began offering one of the country’s first Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree programs.

In 2008, Alex F. Johnson, PhD, CCC-SLP, became Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Institute also expanded its physical space to two additional locations in the Navy Yard (Buildings 34 and 39) as enrollment reached 900 students.

In 2009, the Graduate Programs in Nursing were designated a School of Nursing to better reflect the size and scope of its academic offerings. The speech-language pathology, physical therapy, and medical imaging programs were reorganized under the umbrella of a new School of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences, and the clinical investigation program graduated its last students.

In 2010, the Institute consolidated Commencement activities into one day and moved the event to the Hynes Convention Center. The Emerging Leader Alumni Award was created for individuals who graduated less than 10 years ago.

In 2011, the school received continuing accreditation for a period of 10 years by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges. The Center for Interprofessional Studies and Innovation (CIPS) was created to foster entrepreneurial activity, innovation, and collaboration between faculty and students in the Institute’s academic disciplines. Enrollment exceeded 1,100 for the first time, while the number of alumni passed the 4,000 mark.

In 2012, the Institute marked the 35th anniversary of its 1977 founding. It expanded into a fourth building at 2 Constitution Center, located just outside the Navy Yard and within yards of the U.S.S. Constitution, better known as Old Ironsides. The School of Nursing added a second admission cycle to the Accelerated Bachelor of Science in Nursing program to meet rising demand. The Institute received approval to offer a PhD in Rehabilitation Sciences and enrolled the program’s first five students. It also enrolled the first class in a new Master of Science in Health Professions Education program, and the medical imaging program graduated its last students.

In 2013, two additional programs were approved: New England’s first entry-level Doctor of Occupational Therapy (scheduled to begin in 2014), and a Master of Physician Assistant Studies (scheduled to begin in 2015). The school also expanded into two new buildings, giving it a total of 130,000 square feet across six buildings in and adjacent to the Navy Yard. The expansion included 14,000 square feet in the new Center for Health & Rehabilitation Research in Building 79/96 to accommodate faculty researchers who are leading the Institute’s growing focus on research, with research funding surpassing the $2 million mark for the first time in the Institute’s history.

Commencement Speaker

Gary Gottlieb, MD, MBA

Dr. Gottlieb, who has led Partners HealthCare System since 2010, joined the health care organization in 1998 as the first chairman of Partners Psychiatry. He subsequently served as president of two Partners affiliates, North Shore Medical Center from 2000-2002 and Brigham and Women’s Faulkner Hospitals from 2002-2010.

In addition to his role as CEO of Partners HealthCare, Dr. Gottlieb is a widely recognized and respected community leader in Boston. He is a member of the boards of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston and Partners In Health. He also chairs the Private Industry Council, the city’s workforce development board, which collaborates with education, labor, government, and the community to provide oversight and leadership for public and private workforce development programs. Dr. Gottlieb previously served as co-chair of the Mayor’s Task Force to Eliminate Health Disparities.

Dr. Gottlieb is a Professor of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School, and a member of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academies. In addition to his noteworthy academic, clinical, and leadership record, Dr. Gottlieb has published extensively in the fields of geriatric psychiatry and health policy and is a sought-after expert on both topics. He is a past president of the American Association of Geriatric Psychiatry.

He received a bachelor’s degree cum laude from the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute along with his MD degree from Albany Medical College of Union University in a six-year accelerated biomedical program. Dr. Gottlieb completed an internship and residency and served as chief resident of psychiatry at New York University/Bellevue Medical Center. Prior to Boston, Dr. Gottlieb spent 15 years in positions of increasing leadership in health care in Philadelphia. In 1983, he arrived at the University of Pennsylvania as a Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Clinical Scholar. Through that program, he earned an M.B.A with Distinction in Health Care Administration from Penn’s Wharton Graduate School of Business Administration. He credits the program with building a foundation of interest in health policy, management and academic leadership.

Awards and Honors

THE EMERGING LEADER ALUMNI AWARD

The Emerging Leader Alumni Award, established in 2010 by the MGH Institute Board of Trustees, recognizes the accomplishments of an individual who demonstrates outstanding leadership in the health professions and the drive to develop innovative, effective, and responsible health care practices.

The award is open to all alumni who have graduated with their first professional degree from any Institute academic program within the past ten years. It goes to an individual who has demonstrated outstanding leadership and made significant contributions to his/her professional disciplines and/or health care in one or more of the following ways:

- Implementing innovative models or programs that contribute to advancing the health professions and have the potential to change the health care landscape;
- Committing to and promoting ethical health care practices in the local and/or global community;
- Using their leadership role and skills to advocate for change and advancement while continuing to provide the highest quality of health care.

BETTE ANN HARRIS DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD

In 2005 and in recognition of the Twenty-fifth Commencement Ceremony, the Institute established the Distinguished Alumni Award to be conferred annually at Commencement. It is the highest form of recognition bestowed upon an alumna or alumnus of the MGH Institute of Health Professions. It is given to a graduate who has demonstrated outstanding leadership, achievement and service in advancing health care through the professions and in support of the mission of the MGH Institute in one or more of the following ways:

- Expanding and refining the scientific basis for clinical practice through research and scholarship;
- Contributing to new models of practice to foster provision of effective, affordable, and ethical health care;
- Contributing significantly to advancing the mission, reputation, and standards of the MGH Institute.

The Distinguished Alumni Award is named in honor of Bette Ann Harris, the first degree recipient of the Institute.
NANCY T. WATTS AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING

In 1989, the Institute established an Award for Excellence in Teaching to recognize individual faculty members for outstanding achievement in teaching. Professor Emerita Nancy T. Watts was the first recipient of the award, and in 1996 the award was renamed in her honor.

The award, given annually at Commencement, honors a distinguished Institute faculty member who exhibits creativity in teaching methods, provides outstanding mentoring of faculty and students, and is recognized by faculty colleagues as exemplary in the field of teaching.

Past recipients of the Nancy T. Watts Award for Excellence in Teaching who are attending today’s events will be wearing a silver medallion with a teal ribbon.

The following awards will be presented at the morning Hooding and Awards Ceremonies

Communication Sciences and Disorders

Faculty Award for Excellence
This award honors a distinguished faculty member who presents material in a highly effective manner, fosters an atmosphere of individual inquiry, uses class time efficiently, welcomes discussion and expression of diverse points of view, and excels in teaching his or her course.

Award for Excellence in Clinical Supervision
This award honors a distinguished clinical supervisor who continuously excels in expertise, techniques, and methodology, who communicates theoretical and philosophical views clearly, who allows student clinicians to develop independent style and technique, who is an appropriate role model, is easily approachable and supportive of student clinicians, and who uses constructive criticism effectively to support the growth and development of the clinician.

Student Award for Innovation
This award honors an individual or group who has shown leadership in working on an academic or clinical project involving community outreach. The awardee seeks to improve upon service delivery relevant to diversity issues and has impressed faculty and/or clinical supervisors with multiple examples of creativity and innovation while attending the graduate program.

Kenneth N. Stevens Student Research Award
This award honors a graduating student who has demonstrated superior performance in conducting research that produces new knowledge about normal or disordered human communication.

Julie Atwood Award for Excellence
This award was established in 1997 in honor of Julie Atwood, former Director of the Speech-Language Pathology Department at Massachusetts General Hospital and Professor at the Institute since its inception. The award is given to a graduating student who possesses a strong base of academic knowledge, applies theory to the delivery of clinical service in an exemplary manner, and demonstrates the highest values and ethics, the ability to apply research findings to clinical practice, and the potential for professional excellence and leadership.

Direct-Entry Master of Science in Nursing Program

Harriet Towle Excellence in Clinical Nursing Practice Award
This award was established in 1989 by the nursing faculty. In 2006, the award was renamed in memory of Harriet Towle, a 1910 graduate of the MGH School of Nursing and is given annually to a student whom the faculty has selected and who has met several criteria, including documented evidence of clinical judgment and caring and demonstrated initiative and leadership in practice. The recipient must demonstrate respect and empathy for others, enthusiasm, and intellectual curiosity, and be perceived as articulate, conscientious, and patient.

Rebecca Colvin Prize
This prize was established by Mr. and Mrs. George Herzlinger to commemorate the life of Rebecca Colvin, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Colvin, who died during her Sophomore year at Princeton. The prize is awarded annually to a student in recognition of the development of an exceptional scholarly project. Exceptional writing and scholarly integration of theory and research, as well as application to advanced practice nursing, are recognized. The four criteria used in the selection include originality, contribution to advanced practice nursing, quality, and scholarly value. Mrs. Colvin '64 is an alumna.

Josephine Mangio Keaveney Memorial Nursing Prize
This prize was established by Madeline M. Keaveney to honor her mother, Mrs. Josephine E. Keaveney, a 1940 graduate of the MGH School of Nursing. Mrs. Keaveney, who worked as a nurse at MGH for several years, later taught LPNs at Pondville State Hospital in Walpole, MA. The prize is awarded to an outstanding student from the RN post-professional program who best exemplifies the caring, spirit, and professionalism of Mrs. Josephine E. Keaveney.
Exceptional Advanced Practice Clinician and Mentor Award
This award honors a distinguished role model and teacher who demonstrates excellence as an advanced practice clinician and educator. A student-nominated award at the advanced practice level, it provides an opportunity to recognize the individual who combines expert patient care, teaching theoretical concepts, and advanced clinical skills to students in the advanced practice role. This award is presented to those who personify the skills of an expert advanced practice clinician, including evidence-based practice, caring, role modeling, teaching, and compassion.

Judith A. Fong Nursing Faculty Prize
This prize was established in 2006 through the generosity of Richard Bressler and Judith A. Fong, a 1968 graduate of the MGH School of Nursing and a current Trustee, to recognize and reward extraordinary clinical excellence by a nursing preceptor. Recipients have demonstrated distinction in the role of mentor to one or more students in the nursing program, and model clinical excellence in nursing practice. The award further recognizes the preceptor who identifies the teaching role as core to professional nursing responsibilities, incorporates principles of adult specific teaching/learning theories, demonstrates recognition of individual student learning needs, and is flexible and seeks out opportunities to help students learn and adapt to the clinical nurse role.

Accelerated Bachelor of Science in Nursing Program

Faculty and Student Recognition for Outstanding Leadership
This award is given to a student graduating from the accelerated baccalaureate nursing program who has been identified by peers and faculty as demonstrating outstanding class leadership.

Faculty Recognition for Academic/Clinical Excellence
This award is given to a student graduating from the accelerated baccalaureate nursing program (ABSN) with an outstanding grade point average and the strongest faculty recommendations attesting to overall academic and clinical achievement.

Miriam "Mim" J. Huggard, SON '31 Nursing Scholarship
Sponsored by the MGH Nurses' Alumnae Association (NAA) in memory and in honor of her work and dedication to both the MGH and the NAA, this scholarship award is given to a student in the Accelerated BSN Program at the start of his/her last semester. This student will have demonstrated exemplary clinical skills during the first three semesters of the program and will have worked at the MGH prior to enrollment in the Accelerated Baccalaureate Program. The recipient shall also embody the core values that made Mim an exceptional nurse, leader, and mentor.

The Loyd Nichols Staats Scholarship
Established under the aegis of the MGH Nurses' Alumnae Association (NAA) Endowed Fund at the MGH Institute of Health Professions School of Nursing, the funding for this scholarship was derived from the 1996 estate of Mary Hortense Staats, MGH School of Nursing Class of 1937. The scholarship is named to honor the memory of Loyd Nichols Staats, Mary's brother, who died at the young age of one year. It is awarded annually to an Accelerated BSN student in recognition of Excellence in the theory and practice of nursing.

Physical Therapy

Marjorie K. Ionta Awards for Clinical Excellence
This award is named in honor of Professor Emerita Marjorie K. Ionta, who was Chief Physical Therapist in the Department of Rehabilitation Medicine at Massachusetts General Hospital from 1958 to 1981 and a founding member of the Institute faculty. The award is presented to individuals who have demonstrated growth and a consistent, excellent performance coupled with outstanding humanistic qualities.

Adams Fellow Awards
The Adams Fund, created by Barbara Adams in 1986, was established to offer financial support for graduate education for physical therapists at the Institute. This award is given to students who show evidence of leadership abilities, service to the profession, and the potential to make a significant contribution as a clinical scholar.
Mary Mankin Prize
This prize is awarded to the student in the post-professional program who is judged by the faculty to have the most outstanding master's thesis for the year. The prize was established in 1992 by Honorary Trustee and Professor Henry J. Mankin and his wife Carole in memory of Dr. Mankin's mother.

Outstanding Clinical Educator Award
This award honors a physical therapy clinical educator who serves as an exceptional role model of professionalism and clinical excellence, and who has made significant contributions to clinical education. The award recognizes outstanding communication and teaching skills that foster clinical learning and evidence-based decision making in physical therapy students.

ALBERT SCHWEITZER FELLOWSHIP
The Albert Schweitzer Fellowship (ASF)'s mission is to develop Leaders in Service: individuals who are dedicated and skilled in meeting the health needs of under-served communities, and whose example influences and inspires others. Since the program's inception, Schweitzer Fellows in Boston — competitively chosen from health-focused graduate student applicants in a variety of fields — have worked tirelessly to address health disparities and the social determinants of health throughout the greater Boston and Worcester areas.
Academic Regalia

Academic regalia is a unique academic custom that began in the Middle Ages when scholars at European universities wore hoods and gowns as their customary daily attire. The distinctive gowns, caps, and hoods were designed to represent various trades and professions and to reflect the different levels of education. Bachelors of Arts were apprentices; Masters of Arts were teachers; and Doctors were teachers who had completed post-graduate studies. The regalia worn in academic ceremonies in modern-day America is derived primarily from the gowns worn at Oxford University.

The Master's gowns are set apart by pleated front panels and an oblong sleeve that falls below the knee. The sleeve is squared at the end into which a semi-circle is cut. The Doctor's gowns are more elaborate with velvet panels down the front and around the neck with three velvet stripes running across the bell-shaped sleeves. The variety of styles and colors seen in the procession reflects a university's own distinguishing custom for its doctoral robes. Other symbolic characteristics are sometimes worn on the gown, such as ribbons or cords, to symbolize honors such as Phi Beta Kappa.

All levels of degree candidates and recipients wear the square mortarboard caps. Doctors sometimes wear the soft, beret-style cap. The tassels worn on both mortarboards and berets are sometimes color-coded by the major field of learning but may be black for any degree. The gold-metallic-thread tassel is reserved for doctors and/or the governing officials of institutions. Candidates for graduation wear the tassel on the right side, changing it to the left side after the degree is conferred.

The most distinctive characteristics in academic regalia are found on the hood, an ornamental and symbolic article draped over the shoulders and back which connotes the level of degree, the field of study, and the degree-granting institution. The size of the hood and width of velvet trimming conveys level of degree.

The color of the velvet border identifies the field of study. Listed below are some of the colors represented in the academic procession today:

- Communication Sciences and Disorders ................. Gray
- Education .............................................. Light Blue
- Medicine .............................................. Green
- Nursing ................................................. Apricot
- Philosophy (PhD) .................................... Dark Blue
- Physical Therapy (post-professional) ................. Yellow
- Physical Therapy ................................. Teal
- Public Health ...................................... Salmon Pink
- Science ................................................ Golden Yellow
- Social Work ........................................ Citron

The silk lining of the hood denotes the colors of the institution granting the highest degree earned by that individual. Hoods for MGH Institute of Health Professions are lined in teal and silver.

CENTER FOR INTERPROFESSIONAL STUDIES
AND INNOVATION
Alan Leichtner
Dear 2014 graduate:

On behalf of the nearly 4,900 MGH Institute of Health Professions alumni worldwide, I would like to congratulate you on achieving this huge step in your dream of becoming a health care professional. As you walk across the stage this afternoon, you enter into the esteemed ranks of alumni of the Institute. Courtesy of the Office of Development and Alumni Relations, you will receive a complimentary 5x7 photograph as a remembrance of this very special occasion.

I also want to share with you the resources that are available to you as an alumni of the Institute. We are committed to your success and growth as a health care professional, and hope you will take advantage of these resources over the coming years. For more information, we invite you to visit our website at http://www.mghihp.edu/alumni.

- Alumni Network: Our alumni provide insight as you enter the job market. Alumni from all over the country have volunteered their time to serve as mentors. These alumni are vested in your success and are willing to be contacted as a resource.

- MGH Institute Alumni LinkedIn: This online community is a great place to look for jobs and to ask questions of other Institute alumni. Participation in this network of 1,350 members continues to grow, and graduates continually tell us what a valuable tool it is for them. For more information, please visit www.mghihp.edu/linkedin. We also encourage you to join us on Facebook and Twitter.

- CareerLink and Library Resources: CareerLink is a comprehensive career search portal with access to an interview simulation tool. The Alumni Library Resources page allows alumni to see a listing of journals, databases, career aids and other research assets all in one place.

The MGH Institute of Health Professions takes great pride in the achievements and success of our alumni. Our strength comes from the participation and support of our alumni staying connected to the Institute. As you move forward in your career, we are confident you will make an impact in your communities, and we hope you will share your news and accomplishments with us. Submitting a class note will help keep your fellow alumni informed about exciting life events and will make our publications a more interesting and relevant news source.

Congratulations on your accomplishment today! I wish you great success and look forward to your ongoing engagement with the Institute.

Warmest Regards,

Kami Crary
