Physical Therapy Scholarships:

AMBUCS Scholarships for Therapists awards students in a variety of programs, including physical therapy. Awards range from $500 to $1,500 annually. Applications are only available online between January and April 15th, at www.ambucs.com.

The American Physical Therapy Association offers a publication called Financial Assistance. To order, call (800) 999-2782 x3395. The Association also has information about the Mary McMillan Scholarship, which they award each year, as well as a listing of minority scholarship sites available on the Internet. Visit their web site at www.apta.org.

The Arthritis Foundation has several Research Fellowships that students might qualify for, both at the national level, and through the local Massachusetts chapter. Information can be found at the foundation’s website at www.arthritis.org under the Research heading.

COSTEP - Federal Bureau of Prisons, Health Services Division awards tuition, fees, and stipends to nursing and physical therapy students. Loan reimbursement is available after graduation, also. For more information, call the Division of Commissioned Corps Recruitment at 800–279–1605 or visit http://www.usphs.gov/student/

The Gary L. Soderberg Doctor of Physical Therapy Award contributes to the development of the profession of physical therapy by assisting DPT students who passionately pursue a vision to improve the role of physical therapy in the future of healthcare. For more information email dmsdpt@yahoo.com, write DPT Visionary Foundation, Inc. 4737 Laurel Creek Ct. Baton Rouge, LA 70817, call 225-978-0136 or visit http://www.dptvision.com/index.html

GrantsNet www.grantsnet.org provides information about funding with resources such as grants and fellowships for graduate students.

The Metrowest Community Health Care Foundation awards a maximum of $2,000 in scholarships for students pursuing or advancing their degree in nursing and clinical professions. Applicants must live or work at least 15 hours per week in one of the 25 in the Metro West service area of Massachusetts. For more information, please call (508) 879-7625. or visit www.mchcf.org.

The United States Navy offers up to $40,000 for tuition, books, and living expenses to outstanding students working toward physical therapy degrees. To find out more, write: Navy Opportunity Information Center, P.O. Box 4881, Trenton, NJ 08650.